

28 July 2017

In this issue:

- REFIT: Answer to the targeted consultation on feasibility of burden reduction objectives in specific sectors
- Eversheds Sutherland : E-briefings, Updates and Conferences

REFIT: Answer to the targeted consultation on feasibility of burden reduction objectives in specific sectors

Communication sent to members of CEEP Boards and Task Forces (25/7/2017):

Dear Members,

I am sending you the answer to the targeted consultation on the feasibility of burden reduction objectives in specific sectors.

It was not an easy exercise, especially as the issue was never dealt with by CEEP before. Nevertheless, I received input from several of you and the issue was also debated during the SGIs Task Force on 12 July. The answer therefore tries to capture all these inputs. It was also sent to Vice-President Timmermans in my name, as member of REFIT, and as requested by the procedure. However, I made it clear that the answer springs from the debate within CEEP membership.

Thank you again for your support.
Best regards,
Valeria Ronzitti

Johannes IMMINGER, Senior Policy Officer Sustainability, johannes.imminger@ceep.eu / Dir Tel: + 32 (0)2 229 21 50

Eversheds Sutherland : E-briefings, Updates and Conferences

See below links to information received from our partners Eversheds Sutherland:

Current developments in employment law – half-day updates

Eversheds Sutherlands UK HR E-briefing – Supreme Court rules Employment Tribunal fees are unlawful

UK HR E-briefing – Taylor review recommendations potential workplace implications

Job Stress Briefings – with an Oxford Neuroscientist