East Midlands MPs respond to Northern Powerhouse Rail

This week, the Government set out a new Northern Growth Strategy, including Northern Powerhouse Rail, a major strategic rail programme designed to improve connectivity between key economic centres in the North. In parliament, two East Midlands MPs, James Naish, MP for Rushcliffe and Jonathan Davies, MP for Mid Derbyshire—Chair and Vice Chair of the East Midlands APPG posed questions to the Secretary of State for Transport, Heidi Alexander. Jonathan Davies MP asked the SOS to: “not lose sight of the benefits of electrifying the Midland Mainline... something that will drive significant growth... and benefit the country as a whole.” James Naish MP highlighted that transport spend per head in the East Midlands has fallen to 54% of the UK average, with rail funding at barely 40%, requesting that the SOS “once more looks at electrification of the Midland Mainline, which will have an immediate economic impact and can be delivered in this parliament.”

In response to these questions, Heidi Alexander, SOS for Transport, said: “we did have to make some difficult decisions as part of the spending review on electrification, but we are continuing to keep the potential for full electrification of the Midland Mainline under review.”

Northern Powerhouse Rail, along with other recent transport announcements will be discussed at the Transport for the East Midlands board on Monday 9 March 2026.

The campaign, funded by UK Government, will run from 5 January 2026 for six weeks until 15 February 2026, and will be promoted across multiple media channels including outdoor billboards, radio, social media, podcast adverts and many more.
